

Hello Inspiring Author,

Relationship Development & Transformation is currently accepting writer submissions. This is the ideal opportunity to be published under your own byline and publishing profile for maximum exposure to over 100,000+ monthly visitors (and growing).

RD&T Media and Events is the world's foremost purveyor and curator of the personal development industry. In an 11.5 billion dollar industry, and growing, the world needs an independent resource they can trust. RD&T puts our readers in touch with relevant content that will impact and transform their lives. Our timely and thorough articles will help readers save time and money. It will also allow them to make educated and informed decisions on which personal development methodology best fits their current circumstance on their journey to complete transformation.

RD&T is a progressive relationship and personal development online publication. We welcome writers who are passionate, insightful thought leaders in the field of relationship success. This is an invaluable opportunity for you as a potential contributor to capitalize on RD&T's reach, stand out as an industry thought leader, and cut through all the noise. Join us in providing our readers with the key ingredients that will always inspire, educate, empower and guide them on their own personal journey to success.

Through RD&T, you can cast a wide net for your reader audience, and gain exposure. The opportunity to write for RD&T will allow you to share what it is you know best - relationships. As a contributor to RD&T, you will be assisting our readers on their journey to a fuller and greater expression of life in all their relationships: with their life partner, family, food, health, finances, and the ultimate relationship - loving yourself.

Best Regards,

WRITER'S GUIDELINES

Feature articles must teach the reader something and/or assist them on their journey to relationship success. Aim for 1,500 – 2,000 words, but word count is secondary – it is far more important to tell a story that has a discernable beginning, middle and end. The author's goal is to impress upon the reader that the breadth and depth of knowledge they possess on the topic is so significant that the reader feels compelled to contact the author or his/her company. Feature articles are not advertisements. Write in a conversational tone and communicate with the reader – do not preach to them. Confine your writing to what you know best.

COPYRIGHT INFORMATION

We only accept articles written by the author or copyright holder. RD&T Magazine adheres to all local, national, and international copyright laws. By submitting an article you are granting permission for its use on the RD&T website in our resource library (articles), in our member resources area, and/or in our digital edition magazine and newsletters. If the article is for inclusion in a specific area for a specific purpose, please state as much when you make your submission.
